Native American Meditations

The Sacred Path of life has a middle, a left side, and a right side. As human beings, we are designed to walk this middle path as much as we can. As we walk we will stray to the left and to the right, and come back to the middle. Sometimes we call this straying our mistakes. We are designed by the Creator to walk the Sacred Path of life, and realize that our mistakes are the source lessons. These lessons give us our wisdom. It is not wrong, that we are tempted. What does matter is what we do with the temptation. Coyhis Publishing
